Notes of the Accounts

Purposes of the Committee and activities carried out in the period

The Committee Non c’è’ Pace senza Giustizia “No Peace Without Justice” (NPSG/NPWJ), is a non-profit association constituted by promoters with the purpose of promoting initiatives for the creation of a new system of justice and of an international jurisdiction; to promote the role of the International Criminal Court (ICC), and the International ad hoc Tribunals in order to contrast the impunity for war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide, the abandon of the female genital mutilation practice and other violation of physical and moral integrity of the person; at the cooperation with governments, civil society, human rights activists, for the development of the rule of law and democracy, for the control of the implementation of the right to fair justice in the legal systems of the United Nations Member States.

The Committee was founded, with notary certificate on 5 May 1994.

Over the year, No Peace Without Justice priorities have been, the promotion of the universality of the Rome Statute, through an appropriate ratification campaign; the promotion for a national implementing legislation, legal obligation under the Rome Statute, and cooperation with the International Criminal Court, by providing technical assistance; the implementation of the principal of complementarity increasing the knowledge and developing the ability of local actors on topic such as the international criminal justice, in which No Peace Without Justice has experience, in particular on the drawing up of conflict maps, on programs of sensitization and on mechanisms of responsibility towards children; the sensitization and mobilization of the perception and public knowledge in topic of international criminal justice, especially in conflict and post-conflict countries. In 2007 NPWJ has launched its third face of its activities focusing on the adoption and national implementation of the Protocol of the African Union on African women rights through the explicit prohibition and sanction of every form of mutilation. The political objective of NPSG activities has been to consolidate the formal, explicit and constant involvement of the institutions against the MGF by contributing to invert the social principals, to provide legal instruments for the elimination of this practice and for the protection of women and children. The 2007 MGF activities have been concentrated on the East Africa for the importance that this practice has in that area and for the presence of civil societies real active on the abandonment of the MGF, by endorsing and supporting those campaigns of political initiative, at a national level that could work in favour of a greater level of strategic planning and collaboration between actors engaged against the MGF in the civil society and the public institutions in a widest frame for the promotion and protection of the human rights.
The NPWJ campaign in the broader Middle East and North Africa (bMENA) has coordinated the activities of civil societies in relation to the Dialogue for the Democracy Assistance (DAD), particularly by focusing on the realization of activities on the topic of the political pluralism and electoral processes. In 2007, the activities of NPSG in the Region aimed to promote the dialogue between the governments and the civil society at the political reforms, in favouring the strengthening of the political pluralism, enforcing and strengthening the ability of the civil society to interact effectively with the public authorities. To such aim, NPSG has elaborated a project to promote an effective dialogue between civil society and governments in the Middle Eastern region countries to strengthen the contribution of civil society to the democratic process and promote the dialogue with the decision makers, and the institution apparatus, realizing a program of activities to establish a system of joint consultation between public structures and the promoters of democracy, leader of NGOs, politicians, academics, intellectuals, and journalists.
Contents and shape of the balance closed at 31 December 2007

The Financial Statement closed at 31 December 2007 has been redefined on the basis of the new regulations made in 2001 by the Consiglio Nazionale dei Dottori Commercialisti and in particular by the Commissione Aziende Non Profit, on the matter of making a Financial Statement following the outlines of the non profit organisations, to which the Committee has inspired in writing up the present Financial Statement. Therefore, the Financial Statement is composed by the Financial Sheet closed at 31 December 2007, by the Operating Report on Proceeds and Expenditures, divided into two juxtaposed sections, closed at 31 December 2007 and these Notes to the Accounts.

The data is, therefore, presented in a comparative way with the outcomes of the previous fiscal year.

The Financial Sheet represents the single items following the explanatory criteria of the growing liquidity, as foreseen by the new outlines.

The Operating Report on Proceeds and Expenditures, written up in juxtaposed sections, informs in which way the resources of the Committee have been acquired and employed in the period, in the different managerial areas. The managerial areas of the Committee can be defined as follows:

Area of Institutional Activities: this area of activities bears the expenditures and the relative revenues, sustained for the reaching of the scopes foreseen by the Statute; the former are mostly represented by the costs sustained for the developed initiatives and for the personnel employed for the activities, while the latter receives the contributions received by public and private organisations.

Area of Activities of an extraordinary nature: this is the area that receives the expenditures and the revenues of extraordinary nature.

Area of Activities of general support: this is the area that receives the expenditures and the revenues for the management of the structures of the Committee for the organisational and administrative management of the initiatives of which to the previous points.

The evaluation criteria, the accountability and the drawing up principles adopted for the writing of the Financial Statement are summarised as follows.

The evaluation criteria, the accounting principles and the drawing up of the Financial Statement

The Financial Statement has been prepared applying the accountability principles foreseen by the Consiglio Nazionale dei Dottori Commercialisti e dei Ragionieri, and, specifically created for non profit organisations. The Financial Statement has been prepared applying the same evaluation criteria, the same accounting principles and drawing up of the Financial Statement adopted in the previous fiscal year, in order to adhere to the recommendations emanated by the Commissione Aziende No Profit constituted within the Consiglio dei Dottori Commercialisti.

The evaluation of the Financial Statement items is made with caution and, for the cases foreseen by the law, with the consent of the auditing company.

We have considered the revenues and the expenditures of competence of the fiscal year, independently from the date of collection or payment and from the risks and the losses of competence of the fiscal year, even if they have been known after the closing of the fiscal year and, however, known to the date of the writing of the present Financial Statement.

The heterogeneous elements comprised in the single items of the Financial Statement have been evaluated separately. For the more meaningful items, we have exposed the evaluation criteria and the accounting principles adopted.
